A Gamification Program turns the tedious aspects of life into fun by adding badges, points systems, and other characteristics. It is often used for making some less-than-interesting business aspects more entertaining and engaging for employees and clients.

According to Ashish Mohole, CEO of NextBee – “Gamification solution recognizes and rewards the eligible customers for achieving certain actions, rewarding top performers and changing customer behavior. NextBee’s robust Gamification Solutions motivate customer’s participation, which keeps them engaged with your business.”

Since many organizations are using NetSuite Application and do not have a useful Gamification Software in their business process, NextBee helps them overcome this issue by integrating Gamification Program with NetSuite. Implementing the solution will help the companies work more efficiently and effectively and get better outcomes in productivity.
